

It is up to the individual user to moderate his own content. Some inconsiderate users may choose to upload content that is not suitable for all audiences.

If you are under 18 or easily offended, use this site at your own personal risk. If you see inappropriate content, then upload something to replace it.

This policy is in effect to benefit honest users and to minimize update time. Sysop moderation will go into effect should this freedom be abused.

Click and Drag to move tiles.

Double-click to upload an image into a blank tile, or replace an image.

a two week project created for Dynamic Persuasion Design a New Media Design course at Rochester Institute of Technology
Rochester, New York, USA

instructor: Jason Arena
student: Joe Pietruch created with Adobe CS3 educational Illustrator, Flash, and Photoshop 3D elements created in MAXON Cinema 4D (R10) educational

© 2007 Joe Pietruch

My name is Joe Pietruch, and I am a senior New Media Design student at Rochester Institute of Technology.

I created this site as an exploration of user generated content, and to practice my skills in design and development.

Please visit my blog at blog.jp-design.net. You can also see some of my other work by visiting www.jp-design.net.

Browse for a file to upload.

browse

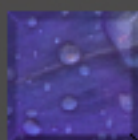

samplefile.jpg

browse

upload

Frame your image so the preview looks how you'd like it to.

Then click submit.

submit

TILE

?

!

©

♪

It is up to the individual user to ensure the content he uploads is in the public domain, or under his ownership.

I claim no ownership or responsibility for the content users upload. This site was created for educational purposes.

If you see copyright infringement, please upload content to replace that image, and/or use the email link to notify me.

Fill out the form to email a friend!
Leaving the "Send to" field as is will let you send me a message!

Send to:

From:

Subject:

Message: